No matter how well how well you know the Bible, you can always learn more. And if you feel like you don't know much, you have to start somewhere. That's why we call the Bible the Living Word – it's with us wherever we are in life and on our journey of faith. Unfortunately, many of us simply don't know the Bible very well, and some just don't feel comfortable talking about the Bible because they don't feel like they know enough. The Book of Faith Bible studies help take some of that discomfort away, get back to the basics, and help you get more fluent in the first language of the Faith: the Bible.

Who: Open to everyone

What: A series of studies on the Bible with participant books and DVD lessons. The first one is called "Rediscovering the Book of Faith," and talks about the how the Bible came to be the way it is.
