Notes from the Pastor...

I still have a special gift I was given by my Godmother when I was baptized, a small silver butterfly necklace which I always pull it out to wear during Easter. The butterfly has been a Christian symbol of new life throughout the ages as it transitions from a caterpillar, into the chrysalis, and then breaking forth as a beautiful new creature, the Butterfly. Something that once crawled, miraculously becomes something, that now, can fly.

As we celebrate this Easter season, I wish to share a piece of an article by Martha Beck. She writes: "I used to think I knew how some caterpillars become butterflies...I figured if I were to cut open a cocoon, I'd find a butterfly-ish caterpillar, or a caterpillar-ish butterfly...I was wrong. If you were to look inside the cocoon early on, you'd find nothing but a puddle of glop. But in that glop are certain cells, called imago cells, that contain the DNA-coded instructions for turning bug soup into a delicate, winged creature, the angel of the dead caterpillar."

She goes on to use the life stages of the caterpillar/butterfly as a way to explain our own life transitions. "The first phase of change is the scariest...It's the time when we lose our identity and are left temporarily formless: person soup. Most people fight like crazy to keep their identities from dissolving." Have you ever felt that? Completely formless, a person soup? Transitions are not an easy time and as we continue in our journey together here, at the Morris Plains Presbyterian Church, we too may have moments where there is a sense that we have lost our identity or have been left temporarily formless, a congregation soup. But just as that caterpillar is not becoming a glob of glop only to remain in that stage forever, there are cells at work bringing a new creation out of a complete mess.

The Good News of Easter is that God is not leaving humanity with a lost identity or as formless void. Transition we must, and leaving behind one identity only to gain something new we will learn to do. This is the story of faith, being transformed by God's living word in our lives. As we celebrate the gift of the Resurrection, God continues to work with us as a community of faith, slowly, in God's time, turning this place into a wondrous new creation.

Peace and Blessings
this Holy Season,

Carie

Get to Know Your Elders

Each month, one or two Ruling Elders will be featured here to help you get to know them better.

Featured Ruling Elder: Karolyn Hagadorn

Karolyn joined the Presbyterian Church of Morris Plains in spring, 2005, and became a Deacon (now combined with Elders) in 2007. She had been searching for a church she could call home for a few years and the first time she attended a service at PCMP she knew this was the place she would call her church home. Karolyn lives in Randolph, and prior to that she lived several years in Guam and the Virgin Islands, but was born and raised in Syracuse.

Karolyn loves gardening, tennis, traveling, her family, and our church. She works for ADP in the training development department, and found that the instructional design process and discipline has helped tremendously in organizing the Adult Nurture/Small Groups ministry.

Karolyn's three children are grown and live in Colorado (daughter Heather), NC (daughter Noelle, husband and their three children), and son Matt (who stayed a little closer - in central NJ - and is married with two pre-schoolers) – finally some grandchildren close enough to dote on!

Karolyn treasures the PCMP church family, the spiritual growth she has realized here, and is grateful to being part of the growth and transition phase we're currently going through.

Featured Ruling Elder: Ruth Otey

Ruth was born in Dover, N J and currently lives in Morris Plains.

She is a retired text book designer from Silver Burdett Ginn and Houghton Mifflin.

Ruth joined the church 4 years ago after walking into the church office a week after Hurricane Katrina to ask what PCMP was doing for the people of New Orleans. At that moment Pastor Steve walked in and replied, "Do I have a ministry for you!" She then joined the church, became co-chair of the Mission Ministry, and the following year became the chair of that ministry.

At the Market Street Mission she volunteers with the Angel Food Ministry; and coordinates our MSM birthday ministry, wrapping presents that are put into bags decorated by our Joyful Noise Nursery School and are given out at MSM's monthly birthday celebration.

She also volunteers at the Interfaith Council for Homeless Families for a half day on Fridays along with doing a birthday ministry for them.

Ruth has led a mission trip to Starks, Maine, has traveled three times to the Dominican Republic for the building of the church in San Cristobal, went with the teens on a mission trip to Branford, CT and worked on the Habitat for Humanity Build last year. She also volunteers at the Community Soup Kitchen with our church.

Along with teaching 6th and 7th grade students in Kids Own Worship (our Sunday School program) Ruth says she feels blessed that she has the opportunity to do this work with all the support that she gets from our church community.

Please take the time to get to know these two wonderful women.

If you are currently not connected to a ministry at PCMP, both Karolyn and Ruth are great places to begin your search.

You are the hands and feet of Jesus in this world.

Pastoral Care Workshop

Saturday, April 24 from 8:30-12:30

I would like to invite any of you that are interested to a Pastoral Care Workshop that I will be leading here at the church on Saturday, April 24 from 8:30-12:30.

There is a wonderful Pastoral Care program available to churches called: Stephen Ministries. The Morristown PC and the Rockaway PC both have this program in place. We will not be launching Stephen's Ministries this year, but I would like to create a prototype of the program and will be using their resources for the workshop.

Are you interested in having some training/instruction on making hospital visits, home visits, nursing home visits?

Are you interested in serving home communion?

Will you prayerfully consider being partnered with a church family that is currently wrestling with a terminal illness, job loss, or the recent loss of a family member?

Together, we can be in ministry together – we are the Priesthood of all Believers – but sometimes getting started is the hard part. Personally, when I began seminary, I was nervous and afraid to go into hospitals. I only had negative memories of nursing homes. I was not comfortable praying out loud and really not comfortable talking to strangers. But with some training and lots and lots of practice, it has become easier and easier. I was required to spend 10 weeks as a hospital chaplain – talk about facing our worst fears!

Together, we can create a church that is not just a caring and friendly place to worship, we can create a church of compassion and love that walks with our brothers and sisters in times of celebration as well as times of trials and tribulations –

Let me know if you can make it or if you have any questions...

Carie Morgan*

Serving Opportunities

Community Soup Kitchen

Our congregation had a very successful experience with the Community Soup Kitchen of Morristown in 2009. We served approximately 475 people during the three times we participated. Thank you to all of you who helped.

Our first serve date for 2010 is Tuesday, May 4th. We need volunteers to both serve and cook for that date. Times for serving are 10 am - 2 pm. There is a signup sheet on the Mission Bulletin Board or you can contact Michelle Rosenfeld at morlans71@yahoo.com, or at 973 267 2599.

Our menu is going to be Italian-inspired with spaghetti and meatballs, baked pasta dishes (lasagne, ziti, etc.) and soup. Recipes will be located on the Mission Message Board. If you have any questions, please contact Michelle.

Photographers Wanted

We want to gather photos that can be used in a variety of our church communications - and we need your help. If you are part of a group that is having an event PLEASE TAKE PICTURES and share them with the Church Office. If you just like to take pictures, please bring your camera each time you come down to church. Snap anything and everything you see and we'll find a way to use them! One of our goals this year is to reflect the life of our church and inspire others to get involved - and what better way to do that than through pictures. Please help us! Contact Donna Ward at donnaward@verizon.net

She assists in moving 1,200 Nova Scotians to Sierra Leone, Africa and aiding the abolitionist cause by revealing the realities of slavery to the British public.
