FIRST FRIDAY MASSES, December 4, 8 A.M. & 10 A.M.

There will be Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament after the 10 a.m. Mass, culminating with Benediction prior to the 9 a.m. Saturday Mass on December 5. This is an all-night vigil offered in atonement for the sins of mankind grievously offending the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The concept of the “Alliance of the Hearts of Jesus and Mary” is a term first coined by Pope John Paul II in 1985, and underscores the fact that the "heart" is a shorthand way of speaking about the whole person with special emphasis on his or her interiority. Thus, the "Alliance of the Hearts of Jesus and Mary" is a way of speaking about their intimate association and union with one another for the sake of our redemption.

The Adoration Chapel is closed during this time, but please come to the church for time with Jesus.

PERPETUAL ADORATION

Thank you for returning the Ignatius Bible to the chapel.

As we check the upcoming schedule, we are amazed at the blessings God is showering onto St. Mark's.

First, Friday is first Friday. Exposition will be in the church overnight from the 10:00 a.m. Mass Friday until Benediction at 9:00 am before the Mass Saturday morning. This is our monthly opportunity for those who cannot commit to a weekly hour in the chapel to spend time with the exposed Blessed Sacrament.

A week later, we are privileged to have Father Bill Casey of the Fathers of Mercy for our Advent retreat Master. Father Casey will speak while the Blessed Sacrament is exposed and end with Benediction before Confession at:

7:00 p.m. Sunday, December 6

7:00 p.m. Monday, December 7

7:00 p.m. December 9, this conference includes Confession with several priests available.

7:00 p.m. December 10

How blessed we are! We can't imagine anything better, even in Rome, except maybe if Benedict XVI spoke.

(Even at that, Fr. Casey is very good).

Back to business: The hours Monday morning from Midnight to 2:00 a.m. are still available. get them now; they won't last long.

The above opportunities before our Lord would be a good addition to your Thanksgiving prayers, especially when we remember those in some parts of the world who seldom are able even to receive the Eucharist at Mass due to politics or simple distance from a priest.

God bless,

Richard Johnson

Respect Life, continued

The bill also includes the procedure in the public health-insurance plan. In both instances, women would have to use private money to pay for an abortion.

The bishops want to ban most types of abortion coverage for any plan held by a person receiving a government subsidy.

They won such a ban in an amendment approved at the last minute by the House, and abortion-rights advocates are fighting to avoid the same outcome in the Senate.

The 2,074-page Senate bill, estimated to cost $848 billion over a decade, is designed to achieve Mr. Obama's goals of extending health coverage to tens of millions of Americans, while controlling the growth of health-care costs. Groups with a stake in the legislation are also gearing up for one of their final chances to change the health bill.

RESPECT LIFE

(From the Wall Street Journal, Nov. 23, 2009)

Health Haggling Heats Up

By GREG HITT and JANET ADAMY

Democratic leaders finally moved their sweeping health bill to the Senate floor on Saturday, November 21, where wheeling and dealing over major unresolved and divisive issues likely will shape the legislation before its next big test. Democratic senators voted 60 to 39 to move sweeping health-care legislation to the Senate floor.

A handful of Democrat centrists say they can't support the government-sponsored health-insurance plan -- known as the public option -- that is included in the bill. And Democrats are divided over abortion, an issue that nearly derailed the House earlier this month when it narrowly passed a health bill that blocked abortion coverage from federally subsidized insurance plans, including some run by private insurers.

Another growing concern even as the bill progresses is the political heat on Democrats over expanded government spending amid rising unemployment and deficit concerns.

"We simply cannot ignore the growth in the federal government," said Sen. Blanche Lincoln of Arkansas, one of those centrists. She and other holdouts warned that doesn't mean they'll support final passage.

The vote Saturday night set the stage for as many as three weeks of debate and compromise in December and perhaps more in January, a struggle that is sure to color the 2010 fight for control of Congress. If the bill passes the Senate, it will then need to be reconciled with a version already passed by the House and then the final bill will have to pass the entire Congress before being sent to President Barack Obama for his signature.

Republicans, even in the minority, have leverage to shape the Senate debate. They portray the legislation as a huge long-term liability for U.S. taxpayers. "It raises premiums," said Sen. Lamar Alexander (R., Tenn.) on "Fox News Sunday." "It raises taxes. It cuts Medicare."

Groups with a stake in the legislation -- insurers, drug makers, small businesses, unions -- are also gearing up for one of their final chances to change the health bill.

Saturday's vote was a preview of sorts. In a nod to liberal Democrats, Mr. Reid included a public-insurance plan in his bill, while giving states the right to opt out of it. After appeals from Louisiana Sen. Mary Landrieu, Mr. Reid tucked in a Medicaid-spending provision to benefit her hurricane-hit state. If the holdout senators stick to their guns, some kind of change to the public plan is likely to come to the floor. But even after a change, the broader bill would again need 60 votes to pass, putting Mr. Reid in a tough spot since liberal senators want to avoid weakening the bill.

The abortion-funding issue likely will lead to another amendment. Antiabortion advocates, led by the U.S.

Conference of Catholic Bishops, are pushing for tighter restrictions. "The sanctity of life is not an issue that can be traded away for political expediency," said Sen. Orrin Hatch (R., Utah), who is leading the fight on the Senate floor.

CHRISTMAS FOOD BASKETS

Our St. Vincent de Paul Society will be distributing Christmas food baskets to needy families in our area.

If you would like to share your holiday joy by donating a box of food that would make a Christmas dinner, please call Christina Masters at 206-367-3874.

Also, thank you to all who helped out with our Thanksgiving baskets. From those who took phone calls, to those who scheduled workers, to those who donated food, to those who sorted food, to those who delivered...it takes many hands to get this job done, but as always, our St. Vincent members did a great job of organizing this parish event, and they deserve our thanks.

FAITH FORMATION

CHRIST WILL COME AGAIN

This is a time of much anticipation. Advertisements bombard us with things to buy for Christmas, children compile lists of toys they hope to receive on that day, and many look forward to New Year's Day as an opportunity for new beginnings.

But the Church starts its new year today. The start of the liturgical year also calls us to anticipate what is coming, but with a different emphasis. In our worship together we do not anticipate presents or resolutions for the New Year. Instead, we anticipate the coming of Jesus.

There are 3 aspects to Jesus' coming in the Advent season. One looks to the past, as we anticipate the celebration of His birth among us 2,000 years ago. The second looks to the present, as we prepare ourselves to receive Him anew in our lives today. The third looks to the future, for His coming again.

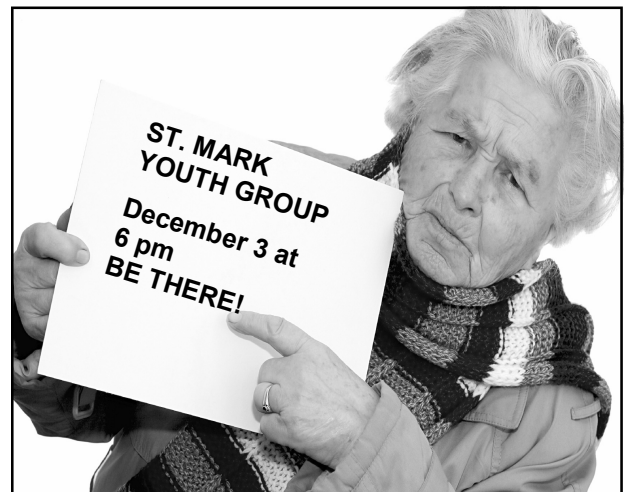

Today's readings emphasize the third aspect. Jeremiah predicts the coming of the "just shoot," a reference to the Messiah who would save Israel. In the gospel, Jesus speaks of His own return with signs and wonders. But it is not the signs that are important: It is the redemption that Jesus brings.

As we begin the Advent season, let us prepare our hearts not just to celebrate Christmas, but to receive Jesus when He comes again in glory.

THE ADVENT WREATH

This weekend, November 28-29, the Advent Wreath was lit by:	Next weekend, December 5-6 the Advent Wreath will be lit by:
5 pm            The Dawes Family	5 pm            Anita and Lynn Schultz
7:30 am        The Svendsen Family	7:30 am        The Holloway Family
9 am            Olivia and Monica Welch	9 am            The Schutt Family
11 am           Claudia Sargent and Marie Warner	11 am           The Orta Family

The symbolism of the Advent wreath is beautiful. The wreath is made of various evergreens, signifying continuous life. Even these evergreens have a traditional meaning which can be adapted to our faith: The laurel signifies victory over persecution and suffering; pine, holly, and yew, immortality; and cedar, strength and healing. Holly also has a special Christian symbolism: The prickly leaves remind us of the crown of thorns, and one English legend tells of how the cross was made of holly. The circle of the wreath, which has no beginning or end, symbolizes the eternity of God, the immortality of the soul, and the everlasting life found in Christ. Any pine cones, nuts, or seedpods used to decorate the wreath also symbolize life and resurrection. All together, the wreath of evergreens depicts the immortality of our soul and the new, everlasting life promised to us through Christ, the eternal Word of the Father, who entered our world becoming true man and who was victorious over sin and death through His own passion, death, and resurrection.

The four candles represent the four weeks of Advent. A tradition is that each week represents one thousand years, to sum to the 4,000 years from Adam and Eve until the Birth of the Savior. Three candles are purple and one is rose. The purple candles in particular symbolize the prayer, penance, and preparatory sacrifices and goods works undertaken at this time. The rose candle is lit on the third Sunday, Gaudete Sunday, when the priest also wears rose vestments at Mass; Gaudete Sunday is the Sunday of rejoicing, because the faithful have arrived at the midpoint of Advent, when their preparation is now half over and they are close to Christmas.

The progressive lighting of the candles symbolizes the expectation and hope surrounding our Lord's first coming into the world and the anticipation of His second coming to judge the living and the dead.
